Sunday Sellers Come Forward as Usual With Their Regular Donations.

The Sabbatarian movement in Connellsville was featureless yesterday. All those who have previously paid their fine came forward and made their regular Monday morning dona-

THE BLACK HAND.

Its Sinister Shadow Seems to Darken Scottdale Last Few Days.

ITALIAN'S LIFE THREATENED.

Tony Avendi, Who Nearly Had His Head Cut Off, Receives a Message. Police Court Was Large on Sunday.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 30.—To all intents the Black Hand seems to have raised its sinister form over Scottdale, according to the statements made by Tony Avendi, the man who had his throat cut from ear to ear, the jugular vein being severed. It is alleged, by Frank Belli, another Italian, on Sunday night, June 23. Avendi was at that time a pin setter in Cash Grin's bowling alleys under the postoffice, and Belli was a fellow worker. The latter was discharged on the Saturday night previous and blamed the discharge on Avendi, who was the chief of the three pin setters. Belli was Avendi's roommate and slept that night with him, spent Sunday with him and then attacked the man. They were moving along a dark spot on Grant avenue. Avendi was taken to the Mt. Pleasant hospital. He was released from there and returned to work in the alleys. On last Saturday he told Mr. Grin that his life was in danger if he did not quit work, and that threats had been sent him that Grin would be killed also. The State Police have been notified and have been at work on the case. When questioned Avendi did not seem to have a very big stock of information other than that his life was in danger.

Saturday night was another busy one for the local police and the State officers, the town being quiet until about 11 and then breaking out with several disturbances of the peace, principally in the shape of unadorned drunks. Burgess William Ferguson had 11 offenders before him and a crowded court at the hearing on Sunday morning. Chief among the prisoners, it happened, was an Italian, who was drunk and disorderly, and who, it was believed, dropped a fistful of money from an ornate solid table knife, filed and ground into quite a cruel weapon. It could not be proved that he was the one who dropped it and the ordinary fine was levied. James Leet, a colored man, was the next star witness and he was accused by his wife of making a big disturbance at their home. She said that since he had been hit on the head with a piece of metal at the furnace he has been acting very queer whenever he gets a drink or so of liquor into his interior. Another victim was of misplaced confidence. He came to the Scottdale Foundry & Machine Company, not knowing that a strike was going on among the molders. After working for three hours the beautiful intelligence reached him that he was in a non-union shop. The news shocked him so much that he reported to drink to take off the keen edge of his feelings. Then he was humming a union song, and doing it very loudly, so that Chief Frank McCudden told him that he would take him to a union shop. He brought him to the lockup. The regular dues were assessed for his membership in the International Harvester's Union.

A Polish chattering on Sunday stirred things up in Brownstown somewhat and some of the celebrators were arrested. One man had a roll of $100 on him, being apparently of the mind that he was a traveling bank, and if anything occurred that would require his presence elsewhere he would have enough for the regular fare to open. He also carried a table fork, probably as a weapon of offense or defense, and possibly having a souvenir craze. This was the last Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal church before the meeting of conference at Christ church, Pittsburg this week. At the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. William C. Weaver, pastor, there was communion services with a large congregation present. Rev. Archibald Auld preached at the Chapel, Jacob Creek and Afton churches during the day and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Porter were at Vanderburgh on Sunday attending the funeral of the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah A. Cunningham, who died on Thursday.

The rains Saturday night and Sunday did their regular work with the roads and the thoroughfares are in very bad shape everywhere from mid and the scorching out of the already low centers of the roads.

Arthur Newman and Miss Rebecca Newman are at Allentown, O., visiting their brother, Homer Newman, and other relatives this week.

Former Sheriff P. F. McCann of Greensburg was here on Saturday.

TEACHER'S FATHER DEAD.

H. R. Shupe of Scottdale Receives Bad News.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 30.—A telephone message was received here this morning from Stahlstown that the father of H. R. Shupe, who taught several terms of school at Folger's, and who is teaching this year at White, died at Stahlstown last night.

Mr. Shupe was notified of his father's demise just as he was opening school this morning and put a substitute in his place, while he left for home.

Brought Over the Option for a Tract of Coal in Somerset County.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Sept. 30.—Daniel B. Zimmerman has, through his attorneys, filed a bill in equity against Mary Flegle and Samuel J. Flegle of Quenahoning township. The plaintiff alleges that on January 11, 1907, the plaintiff secured an option from the defendants to purchase all the coal underlying a certain tract of land in Quenahoning township and containing 213 acres. The price agreed upon was $50 per acre. Half of the purchase money was to be paid upon the delivery of the deed and the other half at the end of the year, interest at four per cent, being applied. The whole amount of money to be paid for this land was $5,289.06. The plaintiff now alleges that he came to the defendants and offered to purchase the land and that they disregarded a written contract made between the parties at the time of Mr. Zimmerman's taking the option, and refused to sell. Mr. Zimmerman, the plaintiff, now prays the court to award an injunction restraining the defendants from mortgaging or encumbering the land and from selling or conveying the same to any other person than the plaintiff.

Recently officials of the Somerset, Fairmont & Consolidated Coal Companies assembled at the Hotel Belmont to transact business and after concluding their business they partook of a banquet spread by E. C. Nisley, the genial host of the Belmont. Nearly all the coal men in attendance are officials of the sales departments of the various companies. Among those present were J. C. Gaskill, C. E. Scott, R. E. Rittenberg, C. E. Wilshire, Walton Miller, Z. Robertson and Frank Hays, all of Fairmont; W. V. E. of Marietta; of Detroit, E. L. Booth of Chicago, A. T. Watson and E. P. Collins of Baltimore, W. C. Storkers of Cincinnati, J. C. Parsons of New York, P. C. Gillespie of Boston, W. M. Wilshire of Philadelphia, R. V. Rouse of Frostburg, Md., F. R. Lyon of Somerset, Charles H. Ankenmann of Washington, D. C., W. L. Anderson of Baltimore and C. W. Wilshire of New York.

J. M. BAIRD DEAD.

Prominent Citizen of Scottdale Passes Away from Stroke of Apoplexy, on Sunday.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 30.—Jonas M. Baird, one of the pioneers of the locality and a widely known citizen, passed away on Sunday about noon at the home of his son-in-law, William S. Loucks, on Mulberry street, from a stroke of paralysis aged 66 years. By occupation he was a farmer and had lived all his life in this immediate vicinity. He was living at Youngwood when his wife, Johanna Raymond Baird, died July 13, 1905, and after that removed to Scottdale where he has since resided. It is said that the shock he being in a street car wreck here a couple of years ago was the start of his falling health.

The stroke on Sunday was the third one, the second one having been on Thursday. He was a member of Company G, 133rd regiment Ohio National Guard Volunteers, enlisted in Ohio, and a member of Colonel Ellsworth Post 209, G. A. R., of Scottdale. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. S. Loucks of Scottdale, and Mrs. J. P. Hubbs of Toronto. The funeral services will be held from the Lutheran church, Scottdale on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

GAIETY GIRLS.

Come to the Casino Theatre This Evening and the Black Crook on Wednesday Evening.

One of the best burlesque companies on the road comes to the Casino Theatre on South Pittsburgh street this evening. For the first time in this year and which has so far allowed youngsters in the cities to run a tumbler race over the streets without fear of any transient officer and his badge of authority.

According to the school laws of the State, every child, no matter of what age, must be inoculated to smallpox before he can be given a seat in the schools. To follow it up, the law is looking for as far as school authorities have been able to figure it out, there is no law whereby the parents of the children can be forced to have their children vaccinated. There is the law that requires all children of school age to take a seat at the desk in the school room for study.

Owing to the dread some parents have of vaccination, it can readily be seen that the two laws are bound to conflict without the necessary action being provided. Pupils are taking advantage of this lack of law to render their playtime over the three months' limit. Their parents absolutely refuse to comply with the law requiring vaccination of their children. The bureau law is being broken, but the school authorities are at a loss to know how to remedy the evil.

Black Crook, Jr.

The modern burlesque stage is more or less the key to the Garden of Eden. These are the four of the loveliness of the maidens will find their longings satisfied by attending the performance of the "Black Crook, Jr." Company who are making their annual visit at the Casino Opera House next Wednesday, October 2.

The management of this organization announces that the attraction is not only new but for the love of beautiful young women, but that the entire offering is a little better than those who generally use a vocabulary of poetic and fantastic words to exploit the maidens of their so-called production in most glittering phrases.

The press agent of "Black Crook, Jr." is satisfied with the announcement that his offering consists of two amusing burlesques, a comedy and a musical play, and a number of novelty ensembles which in conjunction with the many fascinating features are an attraction strong enough to save the treasurer from falling asleep.

MERRY GO ROUND BURNS.

Miller & Faith Lose Their Machine by Fire.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 30.—The news has reached here from Meersville that the merry-go-round of George Miller and William Faith, Jr., of this place was entirely consumed by fire at Meersville on Saturday night. The work of incendiaries apparently placed the machine was not near any place from which sparks could set it on fire. The machine was about new and is said to have cost $3,000 with $1,000 insurance. It was run here during the item's carnival in July, being located on Spring street.

Hurt Driving Sheep.

William McConnell of Independence, Washington county, was thrown out of his buggy yesterday and seriously hurt. He tried to turn a stampede of a flock of sheep he was driving.

LION AND MOUSE.

It Comes to the Colonial Theatre Tomorrow Evening.

In producing Charles Klein's play, "The Lion and the Mouse," Henry B. Harris expended something like $50,000 on the scenery, costumes and general properties, with the result that the scenic equipment of this play has caused wide discussion among all who have seen it. In the second act setting, showing the library in a Fifth avenue mansion there is absolutely no canvas used except for the ceiling.

The setting of the fourth act is also artistic and detailed. It shows the interior of the Colonial Theatre in the home of John Duerst Ryley. The painting in this set is covered with blue satin, the window seats and couches being of the same material. This setting was built and painted by Joseph A. Phoebe, one of the most famous scenic painters in this country. "The Lion and the Mouse" will be seen for the second time in this city Tuesday evening, October 1st, at the Colonial Theatre.

THE RIGHT WAY.

It Costs Nothing to Try It—Let Us Help You.

There is a right and a wrong way to do almost everything. The right way to handle your funds for current expenses is to have a checking account. The ability to draw a check on a good bank stands you as a person of consequence and gains the respect of those with whom you do business. Moreover, paying by check saves you a record of receipts and disbursements and is an important factor in keeping accounts straight. It is not necessary for you to handle much money to enjoy the advantages of paying by check. The First National Bank of Connelville invites your account, no matter how small. It costs nothing to try it—even the check book is free.

CONNELLSVILLE MEN FORM PEERLESS COKE COMPANY.

Work to Be Started Upon the New Plant Monday Morning and 40 Ovens to Be Constructed.

CAPITAL STOCK OF $50,000.

Plant Will Be Erected Near the Donnelly Works of Frick Company in Westmoreland Co.—Headquarters of Companies to Be in Connelville.

The Peerless Connelville Coke Company has been organized with Wade E. Schaefer as President, James M. Doyle, Treasurer, and P. W. Simon, Secretary, and work started Monday morning on the construction of a forty oven plant. The company will construct 40 ovens near the Donnelly and Frick plants of the Frick Coke Company in East Huntingdon township, Westmoreland county. Christian Richard of Uniontown has been awarded the contract for the construction of the ovens and heating plant. The plant will be the smallest plant in the coke region, to be drawn by coke extraction. Its size is just the capacity drawing of one coke extractor, and it is figured that there will be a saving in the construction of the plant for the coke drawer sufficient to pay for the machine.

The company will pay for a charter, capitalizing it at $50,000. There are a number of local men interested in the new enterprise, among them being C. A. Brill, Dr. P. B. Richard, Dr. H. J. Coll and James M. Doyle. The balance of the stock is held by Westmoreland county men.

Offices have already been opened in the Title & Trust building and the active work of pushing the work of the company along has started. The Dunlap-Connelville Coke Company, the Northern Connelville Coke Company, the Unity Connelville Coke Company and the Peerless Connelville Coke Company will all have offices in the Title & Trust building, separate offices and departments being maintained for each company, although all the companies are closely allied, as there are stockholders of each company interested in the other.

RAMSEY'S ROAD

Will Connect With the Deepwater Project of H. H. Rogers in West Virginia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—It is the intention of Joseph Ramsey, Jr., and his associates eventually to carry their Loran & Ashland railroad to a connection with Mr. Rogers' Deepwater-Tidewater railroad and other lines having seaboard outlets. The Loran & Ashland is now building from Loran on Lake Erie south to Ashland. The objective point is the Ohio river, probably at Gallipolis. This would make the new road a direct trunk line between the Ohio river and the lakes, passing through the Hocking coal fields. The survey has been carried almost to the Ohio. The northeastern terminus of the Deepwater-Tidewater road is at Deepwater, W. Va., about 75 miles south-east of Gallipolis. Either the Loran & Ashland could be extended from Gallipolis to the Deepwater road, could build northward from Deepwater and make a low-grade connection between the Atlantic seaboard and the lakes.

UNDER OLD ACT

Was Suit Brought to Recover Washington County Land. In the suit of Mrs. Letitia Liggett of Independence, Washington county, against Edward Duffy and William Robinson, Sr., of the same place, brought under an old act of 1772, tried before two justices and a jury of 12 freeholders, the verdict was in favor of the plaintiff. The defendant must give possession of the property in dispute immediately and reimburse the plaintiff for coal mined since September 1, 1907. The two presiding justices were Squire Dunlap and Squire Ganiz. The case involved lease to a coal mine in Mrs. Liggett's farm and the possession of this mine by reason of the original agreement having expired. Mrs. Liggett leased the mine to the two defendants on August 27, 1906, the lease extending to April 1, 1907. For the mine she received a certain sum per bushel for the coal mined out. When the lease expired last April the defendants were notified to give up possession. This they did not do. Two other notices were given but they still held possession of the mine. This resulted in the consultation with her attorney and the bringing of the suit under this old land and tenant act, which Chief Justice Fuller of the Supreme Court says is a good law, as it has stood the test of 125 years. The testimony showed that since April 1, 1907, there had been a dispute as to any other agreement. Verbal agreements were made, but just as to what they were, differed in the remembrance of the witnesses. A written agreement was drawn up, but it was not satisfactory to the defendants, and was never executed. During these disputes the coal was mined out by the defendants, and Mrs. Liggett received rental from the mine up until September 2, 1907. The business with the defendants was conducted through her son, Robert Liggett, and this complicated matters a little, as he had told the defendants one thing and the mother another. It was clearly brought out that there was no agreement, and the defendants had no legal right to hold the mine. This is the first case of such a kind to be brought under this act in Westmoreland county for many years.

LARGE BUILDINGS

Erected During the Year, While Many Smaller Residences Are Completed, Making Good Year.

According to contractors, building operations during the summer were particularly good, and more large structures were erected than in any previous year. These large structures include the Masonic building, the Solson Theatre, Doyle, Brill & Company's new building on the West Penn cold storage plant in New Haven. The Masonic building on the Solson Theatre are nearing completion while the Brill building is now occupied. Machinery is being moved into the cold storage plant in New Haven. Another large building that has already been started and will be completed this year is the Frick building, corner of Main street and Conlar Place. In addition to these large buildings many residences have been erected during the year.

BUILDING RAILROAD

Two Miles of Standard Gauge Up Pine Run, Somerset County. BERLIN, Pa., Sept. 28.—The Maunt Lumber Company is building about two miles of standard gauge railroad up Pine Run, beginning at Pindlay. The object is to reach a tract of timber owned by the said company and located on the east side of Red Ridge. A mill will be located at the Pindlay bridge, where the timber will be converted into lumber. It is estimated that the Red Ridge tract will cut about 2,500,000 feet of lumber.

Dennis Wagner, who had the John J. Engle tract of timber optioned at $8,000, recently sold the same to the Newman brothers for $5,500. The tract has considerable good white pine, oak, hemlock and other timber on it, and it is one of the few remaining tracts of virgin forest in the vicinity of Salisbury. Mr. Engle also has some coal land for which he has been offered a good round price, but so far he has refused to sell.

PAID FINES.

Pennsylvania Railroad Company Put Out Many Thousands for Failing Mail Schedule.

The Pennsylvania railroad was fined $12,436.50 by the Postoffice Department during the six months ending June 30 last for failure to carry the mails on schedule times over the principal mail routes on its main divisions, and for the destruction of mail pouches for which it could offer no good excuse. The amount of these fines is considered small by the postal railway authorities considering the Pennsylvania and mail handled by the Pennsylvania, and the difficulties attending the strict operation according to schedules. It is small, also, when compared with the fines levied on some other roads for similar violations of provisions of the railway postal contracts. The amounts of the fines assessed against the railroad on the principal mail routes with comparison for the March and June quarters were:

| Route | March Qr. | June Qr. |
|-----------------------|-----------|----------|
| N. Y. Phila. | 1,814 | 5,002 |
| Phila.-Pittsburgh | 2,064.00 | 6,000 |
| Phila.-Washington | 648.94 | 11,441 |
| Pittsburgh-Chester | 82.87 | 333.45 |
| Pgh.-Cleveland | 100.78 | 15.31 |
| Columbus-Cincinnati | 237.09 | 237.09 |
| Columbus-Indianapolis | 214.41 | 458.41 |
| Pgh.-Columbus | 1,161.40 | 2,483.18 |
| Indianapolis-St. L. | 1,327.77 | 1,968.63 |

Under the postal laws the railroads having contracts with the government for the carrying of the mails were formerly required to maintain regularity in the arrival and departure of mail trains. Failure to maintain such regularity with out a good excuse subjected the railroad to a fine. Postal authorities have always liberally interpreted the law and the railroads have seldom made any complaint against their rulings. During the last session of Congress the postal laws were amended both by reducing the amount the railroads were to receive for the carrying of mails and by requiring those having contracts for carrying mails to maintain a "regular schedule for the mail trains." This law went into effect last July, and it is expected that under it, while receiving less by 5 per cent, than the amount formerly received for the carrying of the mails, the railroads would also be liable in a far greater loss by fines than heretofore. Regularity in the transportation of the mails is held by the postal authorities to be of more importance than disaster, deplorable as the latter may be. What effect the changes in the law will have on the mail carrying roads is not known. Contracts with many of these roads were made prior to the enactment of the new legislation, and there is some talk to the effect that neither the decrease in the price for the hauling of the mail nor the increase in the fine affect them under existing contracts. A contest is not thought likely. The fines for the quarter are totaled and then deducted from the bill rendered by the railroad for the hauling of the mail. Should a protest come up the total amount would be held up until the entire question could be either amicably or otherwise decided.

Labor World Notes.

The proposition to establish an old age home for miners was defeated by the Iowa mine workers on a referendum vote. A general railroad strike is threatened in England as the result of the long struggle of the Railway Men's Union with the British railroad companies for the recognition of their organization.

The highest accident death rate among industrial workers in Great Britain is among the warren (52 per 1,000) and the death rate of seamen in sailing vessels is three times as great as on this rate. Inquiry into the need of various States and Territories for immigrant labor has been instituted by T. V. Powderly, Chief of the Division of Immigration, recently established in connection with the Bureau of Immigration.

Organized labor of Chicago has declared war on the new Illinois agency law as an infringement on the right of picket. The Woodworkers' District Council has decided to make a test case of the act.

As Chinamen are not union men and their laundries are not "unionized," they are in the deprived of the privilege of union carpenters in the future. If a recent vote taken by the Boston Carpenters' Union is heeded by the members.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company it was voted to increase the age limit for persons entering the employ of the company from 25 to 45 years.

The organization of the National Association of Carpet Workers of America was completed. The new organization will have jurisdiction over about 20,000 persons employed in carpet mills.

A fight against the use of convict labor in the State of Wisconsin has been taken up by the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor. The Federation desires particularly to stop the manufacture of brooms by two years, the glass bottle blowers have succeeded in getting a scale signed by the manufacturers. The scale grants an advance in wages in two departments.

The Executive Board of the Massachusetts State branch of the American Federation of Labor has decided that legislation to limit or define the power of the courts in injunction cases is to be the effort of organized labor in the fall campaign.

About 40 employees of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad have been retired on pensions. The men so retired have been in the employ of the company from 25 to 40 years.

Owing to the recent numerous strikes on the part of the mill hands and railroad operatives throughout Mexico, the government has decided to take drastic action against the leaders and agitators in all cases where the men are advised to walk out for trivial causes, as has been alleged in the late strikes.

President Roosevelt Addressed Great Throng on Personality of the Martyred President.

The Chief Executive Holding That Men of Wealth Can Conduct Their Business So They Can Get Along With Their Labor.

CANTON, O., Sept. 30 —An address by President Roosevelt and poem written and read for the occasion by James Whitcomb Riley dedicated here today the $50,000 McKimley Memorial Monument built by the country wide subscriptions of 1,500,000 contributors. Three thousand people and 100,000 choked the streets and fought for admission to the grounds. Hundreds of prominent men representing Congress, the army and navy and State governments took part in the ceremonies. Special trains brought nearly 50,000 people from Western Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Two thousand regulars and 2,000 Ohio National Guard troops protected the President and other notables. The President arrived at 11 o'clock. This morning President Roosevelt addressed the High School pupils and then reviewed the parade. McKinley's regiment of the G. A. R., Spanish American war veterans' Loyal Legion and other organizations were in the parade. A score of fraternal or sports participated also. The parade kept marching while the dedicatory ceremonies were progressing to keep the crowd from where the President.

The sun was shining and a great crowd greeted President Roosevelt, who arrived three minutes behind schedule. The President, with his wife and other guests, was escorted by Mayor and other city officials to the High School where he addressed the children. James H. Gilbert, a member of the Cleveland Memorial Post, G. A. R. was run over by a car driven by Mayor and President Fairbanks James Whitcomb Riley and A. H. Harris former minister to Austria. The fateful carriage struck Gilbert in the back of the head from the back of the car. Gilbert was rescued him from the oncoming hoofs.
